Item 4 – Advisory Business

Firm Description

The Practical Planner, LLC (“The Practical Planner” “TPP” “we” “Advisor”), established in 1999, is a fee-only holistic financial planning firm that focuses on providing personalized financial planning and investment management services to individuals and families. TPP serves as a trusted guide for providing Clients with the means to identify their personal financial objectives and find solutions to their financial problem areas. TPP will design and simplify a Client’s cash flow; advise on retirement planning, provide tax planning and individual tax preparation, as well as, advise on financial risk and make investment allocations. All services are tailored to the Client’s unique objectives.

Principle Owners

TPP is owned and operated by Patricia A. Konetzny, CFP® EA, and John Konetzny CFP® EA.

Types of Advisory Services

The Practical Planner provides the following types of services:

1. Open Retainer Agreement: An Open Retainer Agreement provides holistic/comprehensive financial planning and ongoing investment management services. The Client agrees to an ongoing relationship with TPP as their trusted guide in the financial areas of their life.

At the outset, the goals and objectives of each Client are determined via Client conversations and other means, and then documented. Financial recommendations and advice is provided according to the client’s stated financial goals and investment objectives.

Specific investment recommendations are provided as part of this engagement. TPP will provide investment advice regarding portfolio design, asset allocation, diversification and investment selection. Business development and/or education funding may also be included where appropriate.

TPP will execute trades in a Client’s account only after receiving their consent. TPP accepts non-discretionary authority only and Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by TPP. TPP does not act as a custodian of client cash or securities. Clients always maintain control over their cash and securities.

During the Initial Year, there are a number of meetings covering from five to ten Client-relevant topics (see list below). Meetings are held face-to-face or via secure computer link and/or telephone lines. Services are provided as needed and agreed upon.

- Tax planning and tax preparation
- Budgeting and cash flow
- Record-keeping
- Inventory of Client assets
- Retirement planning
- Portfolio analysis
- Goal setting
- Develop asset allocation strategies
- Estate planning review
- Investment Selection
- Small business planning
- Insurance analysis
- Education planning
- Analysis of employee benefits

In Renewal Years, appointment topics will depend on what is appropriate for the Client:

- Tax planning and tax preparation
- Goal setting/review
- Investment review/update
- Rebalancing of assets
- Financial planning and/or any financial services as requested or needed by Client

2. Project Retainer: If an Open Retainer relationship is not desired or practical, Project Retainer services are also offered. Project Retainer services are narrower in scope as compared to the Open Retainer and usually focus on one or more of the following areas: goal setting, asset/liability analysis, tax planning, cash flow management, investment review, retirement planning, risk management, estate planning and record keeping. The service includes various Client consultations as well as written and/or oral recommendations resulting from such consultations. The Project Retainer does not constitute a comprehensive financial planning engagement. As such, follow-up advice and/or implementation assistance is not provided following the completion of the Project Retainer agreement.

If a Client wishes to upgrade to the Open Retainer option, at TPP's discretion, the Client may receive credit toward the Open Retainer fees for all amounts paid under the Project Retainer agreements within the past six months of signing the Open Retainer agreement.

- 3. Financial Review: A Financial Review consists of a two-hour review of up to three financial planning questions selected in advance by the Client and includes email and phone support for 30 days on topics discussed during our meeting. The Financial Review answers your three most critical questions and is not a comprehensive financial plan.

Term and Termination of Agreements

The term of an open retainer agreement is one year and because the engagement is intended to be on-going in nature, it renews automatically until terminated by either party.

A project retainer engagement and the Financial Review is limited in scope and duration. Once TPP's recommendations are provided the engagement concludes under these agreements.

A client can terminate an agreement within 5 days without penalty or fee. After that time, an agreement can be terminated by either party at any time upon thirty (30) days written notice to the other party. Upon termination, any fee paid in advance that remains unearned will be promptly returned to the client.

Miscellaneous Required Disclosures

After April 10, 2017, TPP hereby acknowledges that under the Employment Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) of 1974, as amended, that it is a "fiduciary" when the firm's services are subject to the provisions of ERISA.

TPP does not participate in or sponsor any wrap-fee programs.

As of August 30, 2017, TPP had $37,400,000 in assets under non-discretionary management.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Fees

The specific manner in which fees are charged by The Practical Planner is established in the Client's written agreement with TPP. All fees are calculated and paid as described below, directly by the Client.

Open Retainer Agreement

Initial Year of Open Retainer: $5,000 - $50,000

Renewal Years of Open Retainer: $4,000 - $50,000

Fees calculations are negotiable and based on a number of factors, primarily: income, net worth and the complexity of the Client's financial situation. The Initial Year fee in an Open Retainer Agreement is typically higher than the renewal year fee due to the level of planning and services provided during the initial year of the engagement as opposed to the expected level of services needed in a subsequent year of the engagement.

Open Retainer Renewal fees are determined annually in December of the current year for the upcoming calendar year using the same means that was used to calculate the initial year fee. Notice of any fee adjustment which goes into effect upon the next billing is provided to the Client at that time.

Add-ons, and miscellaneous adjustments: A charge of $400 is assessed for each amended tax return prepared, if applicable. A charge of up to $200 per return is assessed for additional tax returns prepared for dependents of the Client. Credits and miscellaneous adjustments may be applied, as deemed appropriate. Any credits or adjustments will be determined in the sole discretion of TPP.

Financial Review and Project Retainer

Services under the Financial Review and Project Retainer are narrower in scope and are provided on a flat-fee basis and range between $950 and $5000. Fee is based on the complexity of the client situation.

Fee Billing

Open Retainer Clients may elect a payment cycle that is most convenient for their cash flow, as long as, all fees are paid in full prior to the end of the contract term. Typically, TPP collects its fee on a quarterly basis, in advance.

Retainer clients may pay TPP's fee via check, or have the fee debited from their account held at the independent custodian TD Ameritrade (TDA). TPP has made arrangements with TDA to deduct its advisory fees directly from client's accounts held at the custodian. The Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their account(s) in their advisory agreement. Each time the fee is deducted from the Client's TDA account TPP will send a billing statement to the client containing the fee, and the time period covered by the fee. For any fees that are not deducted from a Client's account(s) TPP will send an invoice to the Client. Invoices are payable upon receipt.

For a project retainer engagement, In TPP's discretion either all or a portion of the flat fee is due at the beginning of the engagement. At TPP's discretion, fees may be paid with one-half due at the beginning of the engagement and the remainder upon completion.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

TPP reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than thirty (30) days overdue. In addition, TPP reserves the right to terminate any financial planning engagement where a Client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, and which in TPP's opinion, affects our ability to provide proper financial and tax advice.

Clients may terminate an engagement within five (5) days of signing without penalty or fee.

After five days, either the Client or TPP may terminate an engagement at any time, without penalty, upon thirty (30) days written notice. Upon termination, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable. Whether fees have been earned or unearned will be determined in TPP's sole discretion. Typically, the unearned fee for an open retainer client will be based on a pro rata basis until the end of the current quarter.

Other Fees

Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to TPP's fee. TPP does not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Miscellaneous Required Disclosures

TPP is a fee-only financial advisory firm and does not sell investment or insurance products. In addition, we do not accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

TPP does not charge any performance-based fees (i.e. fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a Client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

The Practical Planner provides holistic financial planning services primarily to individuals and families. We enjoy working with people from all different walks of life. As such, we maintain no minimum net-worth or asset requirements. As discussed above, Client's advisory relationship agreement and fee will be based on each Client's individual circumstances.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

In determining investment recommendations, TPP will utilize public information obtained from TD Ameritrade research services, financial subscription magazines, fund performance reporting software as well as other public research. Moreover, TPP approaches investment portfolio analysis and implementation based on internal factors such as your tax situation, overall risk tolerance, current financial situation, and your personal goals and aspirations. After identifying these items, your portfolio will be structured around your individual needs, while attempting to minimize negative effects of external factors, such as interest rates, market performance, and the economy as a whole.

Investment Strategies

In general, The Practical Planner recommends no-load mutual funds (i.e. funds that have no upfront or backend sales fees), exchange traded funds, U S Government bonds, money market accounts, and certificates of deposit. However, in the course of providing financial planning, TPP may address issues related to other types of assets that Clients may already own. Any other products that may be deemed appropriate for you will be discussed, based upon your goals, needs and objectives. For a portion of a Client's portfolio some holdings will be for long term growth of wealth, and some for short term spending needs.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. The inherent risks associated with any investment recommended by TPP will be thoroughly reviewed and discussed in light of Client's goals, needs, and objectives at the forefront. This will help ensure the Client fully understands his/her investments and that he/she is properly prepared to bear any associated risks.

Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. In doing so, we will use our best judgment and good faith efforts in rendering services to our Clients. However, we cannot warrant or guarantee any particular level of account performance, or that any account will be profitable over time. Not every investment decision or recommendation made by Advisor will be profitable. Client assumes all market risk involved in the investment of account assets and understands that investment decisions made for this account are subject to various market, currency, economic, political and business risks.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of The Practical Planner or the integrity of TPP's management. While The Practical Planner has no information to disclose which is applicable to this Item, Clients are reminded that they may request and obtain the disciplinary history, (or lack thereof), for TPP or its representatives from the Massachusetts Securities Division.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

The Practical Planner is a member of the Alliance of Comprehensive Planners (ACP). This non-profit, member-owned organization provides training and support through an alliance of fee-only comprehensive financial advisors. As a member of ACP, TPP has the right to use proprietary products and systems designed by ACP. The ACP provides ongoing education in the form of conferences and services (which may provide continuing education credits) produced by collaborative efforts of the fee-only financial advisors.

Patricia Konetzny and John Konetzny are also members of the National Association of Personal Financial Advisors (NAPFA), which requires that their members are fee-only, and obtain a minimum of 60 continuing education credits every two years.

As noted earlier, TPP does not sell insurance or investment products, nor does it accept commission as a result of any product recommendations. In addition, no management persons or other employees of TPP are registered, or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer or registered representative of a broker-dealer. No one associated with TPP is registered or has an application to register as a future commission merchant, commodity pool operating, or commodity trading advisor, therefore there is nothing in these required disclosures that is applicable to our firm.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Code of Ethics

The Practical Planner has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its Clients. Incorporated into our code of ethics are the standards set by the Certified Financial Planning Board, the Fiduciary Oath promulgated by NAPFA, and the Pledge to Clients which forms the foundation of TPP ethics.

In concise terms The Practical Planner members shall always:

- Act as a fiduciary, act in the best interest of each and every Client
- Act with integrity and dignity when dealing with Clients, prospects, & others
- Strive to maintain and continually enhance our high degree of professional education regarding all aspects of personal financial planning; and
- Seek at all times to preserve our firm's independence and to maintain our complete objectivity with respect to our planning services and each recommendation made to our Clients.

TPP will provide a copy of our Code of Ethics to any existing or prospective Client upon request.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

TPP does not currently participate in securities in which it has a material financial interest. TPP and its related persons, do not recommend to Clients, or buy or sell for Client accounts, securities in which the firm or its related persons has a material financial interest.

TPP or individuals associated with TPP may buy and sell some of the same securities for its own account that TPP buys and sells for its Clients. When appropriate TPP will purchase or sell securities for Clients before purchasing or selling the same securities for TPP's own account. In some cases, TPP may buy or sell securities for its own account not related to the strategies adopted by TPP's Clients. The Code of Ethics, described above, is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions of TPP or the individuals associated with TPP will not interfere with making decisions in the best interest of advisory Clients while at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Certain classes of securities, such as open ended mutual funds, are designed as exempt transactions, meaning employees may trade these without prior permission because such trades will not materially interfere with the best interest of TPP Clients. Nonetheless, because the Code of Ethics permits employees to invest in the same securities as Clients, there is a possibility that employees may somehow benefit from the market activity of a Client. Accordingly, when applicable, Employee trading is monitored under the Code of Ethics, and to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between TPP and its Clients.

TPP will disclose to advisory Clients any material conflict of interest relating to TPP, its representatives, or any of its employees which could reasonably be expected to impair the rendering of unbiased and objective advice. TPP will notify Clients in advance of its policies in respect to officers trading for their own account including the potential conflict of interest that arises when recommending securities to Clients in which TPP or its principal holds a position.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Soft Dollars

“Soft dollar” arrangements are defined as the receipt of research or other products or services, other than execution of trades, from a broker-dealer or a third party in connection with Client securities transactions. TPP does not receive research or other products or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or a third party in connection with Client securities transactions. However, we currently recommend the use of TD Ameritrade Institutional, a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. Member FINRA/SIPC (TD Ameritrade) for this purpose. Since our clients are subject to the rules and commission rates established by TD Ameritrade a disparity in commission charges may exist between the commissions charged to other clients.

While there is no direct linkage between the investment advice given, economic benefits may be received which would not be received if our firm did not give investment advice to clients. These benefits include, among other things, receiving from TDA: receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts; ability to have investment advisory fees deducted directly from client account; access, for a fee, to an electronic communication network for client order entry and account information; receipt of compliance publications; and access to mutual funds which generally require significantly higher minimum initial investments or are generally available only to institutional investors.

Receipt of these benefits results in a potential conflict of interest for our firm, as it creates an incentive for us to use a custodian providing these benefits for the execution of client trades. Nonetheless, as a fiduciary we recommend the services based on a number of factors. These factors include the professional services offered, commission rates, and the custodial platform provided to clients. Occasionally, TPP may receive small gifts from firms that are recommended to Clients, but all at a de minimus level (i.e. there is minimal value to the firm or its employees), and may receive some additional services and non-direct monetary or other forms of compensation may be offered and provided to Advisor as a result of its relationships with custodian(s) and/or providers of mutual fund products. For example, Advisor's representatives and employees may be invited to attend educational conferences and/or entertainment events sponsored by such brokerage firms or custodians or mutual fund companies. TPP believes that the services and benefits provided to it by brokerage firms (custodians) and mutual fund providers do not materially affect the investment management recommendations made to Clients. However, in the interest of full disclosure of any potential conflicts of interest, we discuss the possible conflicts herein.

Selecting Brokerage Firms

Except to the extent that the Client directs otherwise, TPP may recommend a broker-dealer. However, no Client is ever obligated to effect transactions through the broker-dealer recommended by TPP.

The Practical Planner does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Specific custodian recommendations are made to Clients based on their need for such services. TPP recommends custodians based on the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates, but never requires its Clients utilize any given custodian/broker-dealer.

The Practical Planner recommends discount brokerage firms and trust companies (qualified custodians), such as TD Ameritrade, Vanguard or Fidelity. The Practical Planner has a custodial relationship with TD Ameritrade.

The Practical Planner DOES NOT receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

Best Execution

In recommending broker-dealers, TPP will generally seek “best execution.” Clients are not obligated to effect transactions through any broker-dealer recommended by us. In recommending a broker-dealer we will comply with our fiduciary duty to obtain best execution.

Trade Aggregation

Regardless of the custodian chosen by the client, TPP does not aggregate securities transaction. Most of the investment recommendations we make are in mutual funds which do not garner any material benefit from trade aggregation.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Periodic Account Reviews and Triggers

Account reviews are typically performed annually, by Patricia A. Konetzny, CFP® EA and John Konetzny CFP®EA in conjunction with the relevant Client meeting or at the request of the Client. Account reviews may be performed more frequently when Client situations dictate, and maybe triggered by factors such as a change in the Client’s investment objectives, tax considerations, large deposits or withdrawals, large sales or purchases, or changes in the macro-economic climate.

Regular Reports

The Practical Planner makes written recommendations at the conclusion of an appointment summarizing the topic discussed, recommendations presented and outcomes where appropriate.

If you, as a Client, have any brokerage accounts, including those at TD Ameritrade Institutional, you will receive no less than quarterly, statements pertaining to your account(s) from the account custodian(s), either in paper or electronic form. TPP urges you to carefully review your account statements and compare such official custodial records to any reporting that we may provide to you. These reports may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

The Practical Planner does accept referrals. The referrals come from current Clients, employees, personal friends and other similar sources. The firm does not compensate referring parties for these referrals, nor does it accept referral fees from other firms or individuals.

Item 15 – Custody

Your assets are not held by our firm or any of our associates. TPP does not have custody over Client funds and securities. Clients may use any brokerage house they prefer. However, The Practical Planner has a custodial relationship with TD Ameritrade Institutional Services. TPP may suggest that Clients consider brokerage accounts at listed custodians so that TPP advisors may better supervise Client accounts through the use of online viewing access, electronic trade confirmations, and limited power of attorney.

If you maintain any brokerage account(s), your custodian will provide a statement to you at least quarterly which includes all the assets held in the account, asset values, and all transactions affecting the account assets, including any additions or withdrawals.

In keeping with our policy of not having custody of our client funds or securities, we:

- Restrict our firm and associates from acting as trustee for or having full power of attorney over a client account.
- Prohibit any authority to withdraw securities or cash assets from a client account, other than for payment of our advisory fees or transaction settlement. These actions will be accomplished through a qualified custodian maintaining your assets (i.e. your custodian), pursuant to a written agreement and following your approval.

- Do not accept or forward client securities (i.e. stock certificates) erroneously delivered to our firm.
- Advisor sends the qualified custodian and client an invoice or statement of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account each time a fee is directly deducted.
- Will not authorize any associate to have knowledge of a client's account access information (i.e., online 401K), brokerage or bank accounts), even for the convenience or accommodation of the client or their legal agent.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

The Practical Planner will execute the sale and/or purchase of investments where authorized to do so by a Client on a non-discretionary basis. Non-discretionary refers to the requirement to obtain your express permission and approval, on each individual trade. TPP will always obtain the client's prior approval for each transaction with regard to the investment and reinvestment of account assets or for the firm to give instructions to the service provider maintaining the client's account.

Limited Power of Attorney

A limited power of attorney is a trading authorization. Clients are required to sign a limited power of attorney if they wish for us to execute the trades that the Client has approved.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, The Practical Planner does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of advisory Clients. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in Client portfolios. TPP does not provide advice to Clients regarding the Clients' voting of proxies.

We will have no power, authority, responsibility, or obligation to take any action with regard to any claim or potential claim in any bankruptcy proceeding, class action securities litigation or other litigation or proceeding relating to securities held at any time in a client account, including without limitation, to file proofs of claim or other documents related to such proceeding, or to investigate, initiate, supervise, or monitor class action or other litigation involving client assets. Further, we will not offer or provide guidance on these matters; clients should contact the issuer or their legal counsel.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about The Practical Planner financial condition. The Practical Planner does not require or solicit fees of $500.00 or more for services to be performed six months or more in advance, and has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to Clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

Item 19 – Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

TPP is a State-Registered Investment Adviser and is required to provide you with certain information or disclosures about its principals. Neither TPP nor any management personnel of TPP have ever been found liable or required to pay any award for an arbitration claim or other civil proceeding related to an investment related activity.

An award or otherwise being found liable in an arbitration claim alleging damages in excess of $2,500, involving any of the following:

- a) an investment or an investment related business or activity;
- b) fraud, false statement(s), or omissions; (c) theft, embezzlement, or other wrongful taking of property;
- c) bribery, forgery, counterfeiting, or extortion; or
- d) dishonest, unfair, or unethical practices.

An award or otherwise being found liable in a civil, self-regulatory organization, or administrative proceeding involving any of the following:

- a) an investment or an investment related business or activity;
- b) fraud, false statement(s), or omissions;
- c) theft, embezzlement, or other wrongful taking of property;
- d) bribery, forgery, counterfeiting, or extortion; or
- e) dishonest, unfair, or unethical practices.
