

Pier Capital, LLC
Form CRS - Customer Relationship Summary (Effective as of June 30, 2020)

Introduction

Pier Capital, LLC (Pier, we, our or us) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. We want to make sure you understand that our investment advisory services and fees differ from brokerage services and fees. It is important that you identify these differences in order to determine which type of service is right for you. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

While our client base is primarily institutional, we also offer fee-based investment advisory services to retail investors. Our principal advisory service is portfolio management; however, we also serve as a portfolio manager to a wrap fee program sponsored by a third party firm.

If you open an account with us, we will assess your current financial situation, existing resources, goals and risk tolerances (or in wrap fee programs, we will have the wrap fee program sponsor assess this information for us). Based on this information, and as part of our standard service, we will recommend a portfolio of investments that is continuously monitored and if necessary rebalanced to meet your changing financial needs, goals and objectives.

We provide investment advisory services on a discretionary basis, which means that we do not need to contact you in advance when buying or selling securities in your account. You will sign an investment management agreement giving us this authority, which will remain in place until you or we terminate the relationship.

We also offer investment in our Firm's private fund, which is a limited offering and is only available to those who meet the accredited investor criteria.

We require a minimum initial account size. The required minimum depends on the strategy of your account and whether we manage the account directly or through a wrap fee program. We provide the above investment advisory services for an asset-based fee based on the value of cash and investments in your account.

Please see our Form ADV 2A at <https://piercap.com/adv> for more information about topics discussed in this section. Item 4 of Form ADV 2A provides more information about our advisory services, item 5 about our fees and item 7 about account types and minimum sizes.

Conversation Starter:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments recommended to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Unless otherwise agreed upon, as a retail investor using our investment advisory services, you will pay us an ongoing fee assessed at the end of each calendar quarter based on the value of the cash and investments in your advisory account. Our fees are quoted in annual terms but are invoiced quarterly in arrears based on the market value of your account under our management. Our fees vary and are negotiable. Our standard fee schedule is tiered based on the following asset break-point levels: 1.00% on first $20 million, 0.80% on the next $20 million, 0.75% on the next $40 million and 0.65% on the balance. Performance-based fees are also available but are limited to clients who qualify as per applicable regulation. Please see Item 5 of our Form ADV 2A at <https://piercap.com/adv> for more information about our fees.

Typically, in total, wrap fee program clients pay higher fees than a typical asset-based advisory fee. The wrap fee sponsor will charge you additional fees associated with such program such as transaction costs and broker-dealer or bank custody fees. Usually, wrap account fees will be debited from your account by the wrap program sponsor quarterly in advance.

You should understand that the larger the market value of your account under our management, the larger the fee you will pay us. Therefore, we have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. You could also pay other fees imposed by your bank or broker-dealer for holding your accounts or for transactions that occur in your accounts. Certain investments, such as mutual funds or exchange traded funds charge additional fees that will reduce the value of our investments over time.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Conversation Starter:

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?
- How do you determine what fee I will be charged?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interests do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. For example, we only make money from fees described above. The more money you invest with us, the more fees we will receive. In addition to our management fees, we also charge account fees for investment in our Firm's private fund. Additional information about conflict of interests that can arise as part of our relationship can be found in item 11 of our Form ADV 2A at <https://piercap.com/adv>.

Conversation Starter:

- How might your conflict of interests affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are also owners of the Firm and are compensated by sharing profits of the firm based on the level of their ownership. They also receive benefits such as paid vacations and health insurance.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No, our Firm and/or financial professionals do not have any disciplinary history. Please visit <https://www.investor.gov/CRS> for a free and simple search tool to research our Firm or our financial professionals.

Conversation Starter:

- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
