Adding Perspective to Numbers

Born and raised in Plymouth, Holly earned her Bachelors in Organizational Management, graduating cum laude, and her Masters in Business Administration from Bethel College. Holly has enjoyed more than two decades of various administrative and accounting roles in multiple industries including manufacturing, nonprofits, long-term healthcare, and newsprint services.

Outside of work, Holly enjoys residing in the country with her pets, and spending time with family and friends. She has volunteered for ABATE of Indiana for many years, and currently serves as a Co-Director for Region One of ABATE, and for several seasons has participated in Motorcycle Rider Education as a Riding Skills Test Examiner. She is in the process of becoming certified as a Basic Riding Skills course instructor and looks forward to teaching.

"I have always been a perpetual student and always enjoy learning something new. Working with our wonderful clients from all types of businesses gives me the chance to experience new challenges and continue to learn new things each and every day." - Holly Bridgman
