PERFORMANCE DISCLOSURES

Past performance is no guarantee of future results, and any expected returns or hypothetical projections may not reflect actual future performance. Furthermore, past returns may reflect the performance of assets for a finite time, or during a period of extreme market activity. All investments involve risk and may lose money. There can be no assurance that an investment mix or any projected or actual performance shown herein will lead to the expected results shown, or perform in any predictable manner. It should not be assumed that investors will experience returns in the future, if any, comparable to those shown or that any or all of Pearson Wealth Management's clients experienced such returns.

Performance information is presented net of all management fees and expenses unless marked otherwise. Commissions are not considered since clients on the Pearson Wealth Management's platform are not charged trading commissions. For all periods the performance information includes the reinvestment of dividends and interest unless otherwise noted.

Any comparison to traditional financial advisors is based on an evaluation of average fees and returns. Actual results may be different for each investor, and there can be no guarantee of enhanced returns due to additional diversification, investment selection, or the use of Pearson Wealth Management's investment management service. Projected and hypothetical performance is intended to show only an expected range of possible investment outcomes based on historical average returns and standard deviation of each investment type contained in the investment mix recommended by Pearson Wealth Management but does not take into consideration the effect of taxes, changing risk profiles, or future investment decisions. Projected and hypothetical performance does not represent actual client accounts or actual trades and may not reflect the effect of material economic and market factors. The actual transaction costs in client accounts may be different.

Actual investors of Pearson Wealth Management may experience different results from any hypothetical results shown. There is a potential for loss, as well as gain, not reflected in any hypothetical information portrayed. Any hypothetical performance results shown do not represent the results of actual trading using client assets but were achieved using the retroactive application of a model designed with the benefit of hindsight. Investors should carefully review the additional information presented by Pearson Wealth Management as part of any hypothetical comparison.

Any comparisons to indices are presented to provide you with an understanding of their long-term historical performance and are not presented to illustrate the performance of any security. The inclusion of market or composite indexes, benchmarks, or other measures of relative performance in the various risk/return charts does not imply that such indexes are appropriate performance measures for a client's portfolio, but rather are used solely to illustrate the risk and return characteristics of select market indexes during the period. An index's performance does not reflect the deduction of transaction costs, management fees, or other costs which would reduce returns. References to market or composite indexes, benchmarks, or other measures of relative market performance (indexes) over a specified period are provided for information only and do not imply that a portfolio will achieve similar returns, volatility or other results. The composition of an index may not reflect the way a portfolio is constructed about expected or achieved returns, portfolio guidelines, restrictions, sectors, correlations, concentrations, volatility, or tracking error targets, all of which may change over time. An investor cannot invest directly in an index. Because of the differences between the client allocations and any indices shown, Pearson Wealth Management cautions investors that no index is directly comparable to the performance shown since each index has its own unique results and volatility, and such indices if shown, should not be relied upon as an accurate comparison.

The above list is not inclusive; additional performance disclosures and risk data are available, upon request. Please contact your Pearson Wealth Management Advisor to discuss this matter further.
