Advisory Business

Matterhorn Financial Planning, LLC (MFP) was organized in 2013 and has been registered with the State of Idaho as a Registered Investment Adviser firm since 2013. Robbie Schoonmaker, CFP®, CPA, RLP is 100% owner and sole principal of the firm.

We provide Fee-Only financial planning and investment advice services to individuals from all walks of life through three different fee approaches. The client may choose any of the three approaches.

Hourly/Set Fee

First, a client may choose hourly as-needed financial planning and investment advice services. Occasionally, services will be performed for a pre-arranged set fee. These services may be general in nature or focused on a particular area of interest or need, depending on the individual's unique circumstances. They may include life planning, investment portfolio review and design, retirement planning, education planning, cash flow planning and debt management, risk management/insurance planning, tax planning and compliance, etc, all of which are provided directly by MFP. These are generally limited engagements, and once MFP has provided advice on the specific topic agreed to, the engagement is concluded unless/until new engagement parameters are agreed to again. We do not participate in any wrap fee programs, nor do we manage client assets on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis.

Regarding the financial advice process, first, we gather information about the client's personal financial situation and then conduct a meeting or meetings with the client to clarify the client's personal financial information and determine the client's specific needs, objectives, goals and tolerance for risk. Then, we analyze the client's current financial situation and possible future scenarios, when appropriate. Next, we present a summary of significant observations, assumptions and recommendations in each area we were engaged to provide advice. The engagement is generally concluded upon completion of the presentation. The client may re-engage us as needed. Periodic reviews are recommended and it is the client's responsibility to initiate these reviews.

Regarding the investment advice process, first, we gather information about the client's personal financial situation and then conduct a meeting or meetings with the client to clarify the client's personal financial information and determine the client's specific needs, objectives, goals and tolerance for risk. Then, we recommend a proper asset allocation based on the client's personal financial situation. Then, we recommend specific investments to fill out the recommended asset allocation. Next, we recommend that the portfolio be maintained by rebalancing about annually and/or making adjustments as needed. The engagement is generally concluded upon completion of the recommendations. The client may re-engage us as needed. Periodic reviews are recommended and it is the client's responsibility to initiate these reviews.

MFP may also conduct group educational workshops on various financial planning or investment topics. These engagements will be performed for a pre-arranged set fee.

Annual Agreement¹

Alternately, a client may opt to enter an agreement to have ongoing financial or investment advice at a set annual rate, payable monthly. Due to the ongoing nature of these relationships, MFP takes a more proactive role (as compared to an hourly/set fee engagement) in initiating ongoing planning. MFP offers two levels of this service: the Foothills plan and the Mountaintop plan.

Foothills plan

The Foothills plan includes financial planning services but not any investment advice. The initial planning might, depending on the client, include the following:

1. Discussion of goals/Life Planning
2. Retirement Projection
3. Tax projection analysis
4. Which type of accounts to use (401k vs Roth etc)
5. Benefits Review
6. Insurance Review
7. Debt analysis
8. General College Funding
9. Budget analysis
10. Estate planning discussion

Ongoing planning might include such items as the following:

1. Updates to goals/Life Planning
2. Updates to retirement and tax projections
3. Budget review, reassessment of savings/allocation of free cash flow
4. Annual benefits review
5. College Funding for individual children at appropriate times
6. New situations as they arrive, such as
 - a. Home or other large purchase
 - b. Employment change
 - c. Windfall/hardship analysis
 - d. Loan questions/reviews
 - e. Other questions/issues as they arise

Foothills plan clients will also have ongoing access to MFP's online financial planning portal, including the ability to view account consolidation and net worth tracking, review expenses/budgeting, and review and run scenarios with retirement plans, etc.

Mountaintop Plan

The Mountaintop plan will include everything in the Foothills plan plus periodic investment advice (but not ongoing management or advisor discretion). This investment advice will generally include the following:

1. Risk assessment
2. Creation of a Personal Investment Policy Statement

¹ Not available in the State of Utah

3. Specific investment advice for all investment accounts including employer retirement plans, based when possible on passive investments with a long-term strategic asset allocation approach
4. Asset Location advice
5. Review of risk, allocation and available investments generally on an annual basis
6. Periodic discussions as needed

Clients in the Mountaintop Plan will also generally receive preparation of their personal Federal and State tax returns at no additional charge.

MFP reserves the right to adjust pricing of these plans for unusual client situations.

DIY Planning Software Access

Finally, a client may opt to simply obtain access to MFP's online financial planning portal, including the ability to view account consolidation and net worth tracking, review expenses/budgeting, and review and run scenarios with retirement plans, etc.

At the client's request, they may obtain access to up to one hour of free consulting time by email, phone or video conference with MFP per year. This free hour does not accrue and carryover to future years if not used.

Fees and Compensation

Matterhorn Financial Planning, LLC charges fees on a Fee-Only, hourly basis. Fees for financial planning and investment advice services are $325 per hour², billed in six minute increments, and a partial increment will be treated as a whole. Clients are billed on a monthly basis for work performed each month. We may also charge fixed fees that are based on our hourly rate multiplied by the approximate number of hours that are anticipated to provide the requested service. Fees are negotiable at our sole discretion.

We may require a deposit for engagements in the amount of the lesser of $500 or half of the total estimated fee. The balance of fees due is payable immediately upon presentation of the advice to the client. In this arrangement, fees will not be collected for services to be performed more than six months in advance and in excess of $500. For each engagement, proposed services (and generally an estimated fee range) are detailed in the written service agreement.

Alternately, clients may opt for an engagement under the annual agreement model. A start-up fee is charged upon the acceptance of the engagement and set monthly payments are made each month thereafter. The fee is all-inclusive of the financial planning services that MFP provides per fee level as outlined in "Advisory Business" above. The fee will generally include a $1,500 start-up charge and an annual fee (for the Foothills plan) of $3,300, payable monthly in $275 installments by auto-debit. For the Mountaintop plan the annual fee will be $4,500, payable monthly in $375 installments by auto-debit. MFP reserves the right to adjust fees for unusual client situations.

² Due to state law, this fee is $200/hr for clients in the State of Utah.

For the DIY Planning Software Access, the fee is $50/month with no upfront fee.

Either party may terminate this Agreement at any time by providing written notice to the other party. Pursuant to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (“Advisers Act”), if the Firm’s Form ADV Part 2 disclosure brochure was not delivered to the Client at least 48 hours prior to entering into the Agreement, then the Client has the right to terminate the engagement without penalty within five business days after entering into the Agreement. Upon termination under any other circumstance, Client will be assessed fees for services incurred from the date of the engagement to the date of the Firm’s receipt of written notice of termination. All fees due at time of termination will be due and payable by you immediately. The Firm will promptly refund any unearned prepaid fees upon receipt of written termination notice. We will not be responsible for any future allocations, transactions or advice upon termination.

In connection with using our services, the client may also incur separate fees and expenses that are charged by mutual funds and/or exchange traded funds (ETFs). We recommend that the client review the investment prospectus for a complete explanation of these fees and expenses. In addition, the client may also incur separate transaction costs or administration fees from brokerage firms. We recommend that the client obtain a complete schedule of fees from their brokerage firm. We do not receive any portion of these other fees. We do not receive commissions or third-party payments of any kind. The only compensation we receive is in the form of hourly, fixed and/or retainer fees paid directly by the client.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Matterhorn Financial Planning, LLC does not charge fees based on a share of capital appreciation of the funds of an advisory contract, also known as performance-based fees. We also do not provide ongoing investment management services, so issues related to side-by-side management are not applicable.

Types of Clients

Matterhorn Financial Planning, LLC provides its services primarily to individuals, but may also advise trusts, estates, or businesses. We do not require minimums as to income, assets, net worth, length of engagement, revenues generated or other conditions for engaging our services.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

If Matterhorn Financial Planning is engaged to provide investment advice, we will first gather information about the client's current investments and planned investments, and then through education and discussion we will make a determination of the client's objectives, needs, and tolerance for various types of risk.

Next, we will prepare a recommendation of potential investment changes and suggested future investments. We generally favor a long-term, buy-and-hold, passive approach to investing. We will generally, after discussion with the client and with consideration for the size and distribution of the client's portfolio, recommend a target asset allocation across a variety of investment categories (for example, large company stocks, small company stocks, international stocks, real estate, bonds, etc). We believe that a client's asset allocation, combined with the client's personal behavior and discipline in the face of changing market conditions, are the primary determinants of an investor's return. We will also recommend specific investments (primarily low-cost, no-load, index investments) for the portfolio. Finally, we will recommend that the portfolio be rebalanced or have adjustments made periodically as it strays from the target asset allocation or as other personal situations change.

While we will strive to inform the client of the potential risks they will face while following our recommendations, and while we will strive to minimize the risks they will face, there is no guarantee that the client's investment goals will be met or that they will not face investment losses. Investing in our recommendations will include the risk of loss and each client must be prepared for that possibility. Other risks that will affect the client's investment experience include market risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk, political risk, currency risk, manager risk, tracking errors, etc.

About the CFP® Professional Designation

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

About the CPA Professional Designation

Certified Public Accountants (CPAs) are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination.

In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

About the RLP Professional Designation

The Registered Life Planner® (RLP®) is a course of study offered through the Kinder Institute that includes a comprehensive curriculum in client-centered financial planning, to include:

- The 2-day Seven Stages of Money Maturity® Workshop: A New Model for Developing Client Relationships
- The Life Planning Advanced Training: Applying the EVOKE® Life Planning Methodology to Client Engagements
- The RLP® Mentorship: A 6-month Online Case Study Seminar

Successful completion of the curriculum qualifies participants to receive the Registered Life Planner® (RLP®) designation. Every two years, designation holders must complete continuing education (CE) requirements to maintain their qualification. CE requirements include 16 hours of life planning with at least eight hours from programs offered by the Kinder Institute (up to four hours may come from non-Kinder Institute programs that have been reviewed and accredited by the Kinder Institute), and of the 16 hours, at least four hours must be devoted to additional training on the EVOKE® method either from the institute or another accredited program.
