

Crafting Your Investment Strategy with Nitrogen

Let's talk about risk.

Subjective risk questionnaires nearly always miss the mark.

"AGGRESSIVE"

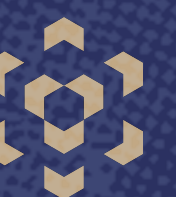

"MODERATE"

"CONSERVATIVE"

That's because the old way of assessing risk, stereotyping investors with subjective semantics, simply doesn't work.

~~"AGGRESSIVE"~~

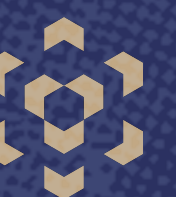

~~"MODERATE"~~

~~"CONSERVATIVE"~~

My approach uses the Risk Number. It's built upon a Nobel Prize-winning framework, and everyone has one. What's yours?

My Process

I combine my depth of investment knowledge, investment philosophy, and cutting-edge technology in order to empower my clients to invest fearlessly.

How much risk do you want?

We'll take a quantitative approach to pinpointing your Risk Number by going through a series of objective exercises based on actual dollar amounts.

How much risk do you have?

If you've already got an investment portfolio, we can quickly import it and see if your Risk Number aligns with your current amount of Risk.

How much should you have?

We'll use all these factors to build an optimized portfolio that fits your risk tolerance and goals, giving you the best chance for success.

But, what if...

Don't worry; we can also stress test your portfolio against specific market conditions, illustrate various scenarios, discuss your 95% Historical Range, and set expectations for what is normal behavior for your investments.

How much risk do you need?

We can chart a path to retirement using a simple, intuitive approach. We'll visualize the probability of a successful retirement and adjust in realtime.

Together, we can take the guesswork out of your financial future.
