Explanation of Professional Designations

Individuals who hold the CRPC® designation have completed a course of study encompassing pre-and post-retirement needs, asset management, estate planning and the entire retirement planning process using models and techniques from real client solutions. Additionally, individuals must pass an end-of-course examination that tests their ability to synthesize complex concepts and apply theoretical concepts to real-life situations.

All designees have agreed to adhere to Standards of Professional Conduct and are subject to a disciplinary process.

Designees renew their designation every two-years by completing 16 hours of continuing education, reaffirming adherence to the Standards of Professional Conduct and complying with self-disclosure requirements.

The Market Technicians Association (MTA) is a not-for-profit professional regulatory organization servicing over 4,500 market analysis professionals in over 85 countries around the globe. The MTA's main objectives involve the education of the public, the investment community and its membership in the theory, practice and application of technical analysis. The Chartered Market Technician (CMT) program requires candidates to demonstrate proficiency in a broad range of topics in the field of Technical Analysis. The program consists of three levels. The objectives of the CMT program are; to professionalize the field of Technical Analysis, to promote high ethical and professional standards, to guide candidates in mastering a professional body of knowledge. Candidates who successfully complete all three levels of the CMT examination and agree to abide by the MTA Code of Ethics are granted the right to use the CMT credential.
