

Keen Wealth Advisors Cookie Policy

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website. Cookies are used by companies and organizations to analyze website performance, remember user preferences, and improve user experience. Cookies may also collect information regarding how visitors use and navigate the website.

How does Keen Wealth Advisors use cookies?

There are several types of cookies used on our site, explained below:

- Analytical Cookies: Are used to help us improve our website by recording the path a user takes to reach our site and which parts of the website users spend most of their time viewing and interacting with.
- Session Cookies: Are temporary and only track your usage on the website while you have it open and are deleted once the browser is closed.
- Persistent Cookies: These cookies remain on your device for a specified period of time to remember preferences and settings for future visits.
- User Preferences/Permanent Cookies: These cookies remember certain user preferences and login settings to improve the browsing experience during future visits.
- Third-party Cookies: Certain third-party service providers, such as analytics or embedded content providers, may place cookies on the website to support functionality, performance measurement, or user engagement analysis.

Your consent on cookie usage?

By continuing to use our website, you acknowledge the use of cookies as described in this policy. Where required by applicable law, users may also be provided with additional cookie consent options.

How do you opt out or withdraw consent?

Most web browsers allow users to control cookies through browser settings, including blocking or deleting cookies. Please note that disabling certain cookies may affect website functionality. Additional information regarding Google Analytics opt-out options is available at:
