

DIVIDEND +

FACT SHEET

MARCH 31, 2022

"Dividend Aristocrat" stocks have at minimum, a 25-year track record of not only paying their dividend but also of increasing their dividend year after year. The use of a "covered call" strategy can enhance the cash flow yield of the portfolio (The Plus). This strategy seeks to produce income as well as long-term total returns. Regal brings it to our clients in a cost-effective, diversified managed strategy, which looks to combine overall performance with cash flow yields.

Regalfolios Dividend + Strategy Composite is an equity portfolio focused on large cap stocks with a strong and stable dividend paying history. Selected Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) are used for balance and additional diversification. The strategy further enhances cash flow yield through writing covered calls on the held security positions. Covered calls are considered short positions, are targeted for 3–4 month durations or less, and are the only short positions utilized by the strategy. The strategy objective is to produce a reliable high level of cash flow yield. Total return is a secondary objective. The benchmark for this composite is Morningstar Moderate Target Risk. The minimum for composite inclusion is $250,000.

1 The benchmark used for the period of 6/30/2004 to 12/31/2019 was the S&P 500 Index. As of 1/01/20, the benchmark was changed to a custom benchmark of 60% S&P 500 Value Index and 40% S&P 500 Index. The S&P 500, or Standard & Poor's 500 Index, is a market-capitalization-weighted index of the 500 largest U.S. publicly traded companies. The index is widely regarded as the best gauge of large-cap U.S. equities. The S&P 500 Value Index is a market-capitalization-weighted index that measures the performance of the large-capitalization value segment of stocks in the S&P 500 Index.

A conflict of interest exists in that Regal would have an incentive to offer clients an investment strategy managed by Regal Managed Strategies as opposed to strategies managed by a third-party manager where Regal would share fees received with the third-party. Regal believes that its Managed Strategies fees are competitive; however, such compensation may be higher than fees charged by other firms providing the same or similar services.
