| Will your spouse's estate exceed their remaining federal estate and gift tax exclusion amount ($12.92 million, if no lifetime use), or will your combined estates exceed your remaining combined exclusion amounts ($25.84 million, if no lifetime use)? If so, consider the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> You may have a federal estate tax liability due. Remember, proceeds from a life insurance policy owned by the deceased and values of retirement accounts are included in the gross estate. To maintain portability of unused exemption, you must file IRS Form 706. Normally, Form 706 is due nine months from the date of death (with a six-month extension available). However, if Form 706 is filed only to elect portability, it is due within five years of the date of death. | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| If there is an estate tax liability, was the total value of the estate on the date of death greater than the value at six months after the date of death? If so, you may elect on Form 706 to use the alternate valuation date to reduce estate taxes, valuing all assets as of six months after the date of death (unless sold within that period). | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| Could there be property and assets not yet identified? If so, consider the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Consider looking at the “points” feature on credit cards and “miles” with airlines to see if they are transferable. Check for safe deposit boxes but be sure to follow probate rules before opening. Search state agencies and unclaimed property sites that are run by many state treasurers. | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
