Types of Advisory Services

ASSET MANAGEMENT

Investably offers discretionary asset management services to advisory Clients. Investably will offer Clients ongoing asset management services through determining individual investment goals, time horizons, objectives, and risk tolerance. Investment strategies, investment selection, asset allocation, portfolio monitoring and the overall investment program will be based on the above factors. The Client will authorize Investably discretionary authority to execute selected investment program transactions as stated within the Investment Advisory Agreement.

When deemed appropriate for the Client, Investably may hire Sub-Advisors to manage all or a portion of the assets in the Client account. Investably has full discretion to hire and fire Sub-Advisors as they deem suitable. Sub-Advisors will maintain the models or investment strategies agreed upon between Sub-Advisor and Investably. Sub-Advisors execute trades on behalf of Investably in Client accounts. Investably will be responsible for the overall direct relationship with the Client. Investably retains the authority to terminate the Sub-Advisor relationship at Investably’s discretion.

MODEL MARKETPLACE OF ALTRUIST LLC

Investably participates in the Model Marketplace of Altruist LLC, an SEC registered investment adviser and affiliate of Altruist Financial LLC. Investably may assign to client accounts any of the available Altruist LLC generated portfolios, Third-Party Portfolios, or other portfolios made available through Altruist LLC’s Model Marketplace. All Altruist LLC advisory fees for assigned portfolios are charged directly to client accounts.

SEI INVESTMENTS MANAGEMENT CORP (SIMC)

Investably also offers discretionary management services through a program sponsored by SEI Investments Management Corp (SIMC). Investably will use the following programs:

- a) SIMC Sub-Advised Program - In the SIMC Sub-Advised Program, Investably retains SIMC as a sub-advisor in order to provide certain of investment management solutions to Investably in a sub-advised relationship, including investment strategies of SIMC’s portfolio managers and certain SIMC-developed investment strategy models. Included in this model are the SEI Managed Account Solutions and the Custom High Net Worth Solutions.
- b) Custody-only Program - In addition to the investment programs noted above, Investably may (i) invest Investors’ assets into one or more of the SEI mutual funds based solely on Investably’s determination and not in accordance with any Mutual Fund Model, or (ii) may select a custom allocation for a Managed Account Portfolio that does not conform to any of SIMC's model Managed Account Portfolios. Any investor with an account invested in this manner is considered to have a "Custom Portfolio," for which SIMC does not provide any model allocations or recommended rebalancing guidelines. If, at any time, an Investor's account originally invested in and/or rebalanced in accordance with a Mutual Fund Model or Managed Account Portfolio is no longer invested in accordance with that model's or portfolio's recommended asset allocation for any reason, as determined by SIMC, including, without limitation, because Investably and/or the Investor did not elect to initiate or continue automatic rebalancing on the Account, that account will become a Custody-only account and, going forward, be considered a Custom Portfolio.

Investably will provide the following services when recommending SEI:

- Assist Investors in selecting appropriate Managed Account Portfolios or Custom Portfolios in accordance with the terms of the Firm's advisory agreements and, if applicable Tri-party Agreement, with such Investors.
- Assist Investors in completing the Custody Agreement and any other agreement or form provided and/or required by SEI necessary for SEI to provide the applicable service to the Investor and forward such completed agreements and forms to SEI.
- Deliver to Investors that are using MAS, SIMC's and each money manager's Form ADV Part 2.

Provide SEI with all Investor and potential investor information required by SEI necessary for SEI to perform the services.

BUCKINGHAM STRATEGIC PARTNERS, LLC

Investably has contracted with Buckingham Strategic Partners, LLC ("BSP"), for services including trade processing, collection of management fees, record maintenance, report preparation, marketing assistance, and research. Investably has also contracted with BSP for certain sub-advisory services. In certain instances, Investably pays a fee for these BSP services based on management fees paid to Investably on accounts that use BSP services. The fee paid by Investably to BSP varies based on the total client assets administered and/or sub advised by BSP through Investably. These fees will not be separately charged to advisory clients are included within the advisory fees charged to clients. There may be other fees Advisor clients may pay to BSP directly under separate fee agreements.

For investment management services, Investably will request authority from the client to delegate discretion to trade in the client's account, and to receive quarterly payments directly from the client's account held by an independent custodian. Clients may provide written limited authorization to Investably or its designated service provider, BSP, to withdraw fees from the account. Clients will receive custodial statements showing the advisory fees debited from their account(s). Certain third-party administrators will calculate and debit Investably's fee and remit such fee to Investably. BSP may pay various forms of direct and indirect compensation to Investably or its representatives for reasonable business or educational purposes as described in BSP's Form ADV Part 2A.

SUBADVISORY SERVICES

Investably may act as a sub-advisor to other non-affiliated investments advisors (Primary Advisor) who hire us to manage a portion or all of a clients 'portfolio'. The Primary Advisor must have discretionary over the account and the ability to delegate that discretionary trading authority to Investably. Investably will manage the assets according to agreed upon strategies between Investably and Primary Advisor.

ASSETS HELD AWAY

Investably uses a third-party platform to facilitate management of held away assets such as defined contribution plan participant accounts, with discretion. The platform allows us to avoid being considered to have custody of Client funds since we do not have direct access to Client log-in credentials to affect trades. We are not affiliated with the platform in any way and receive no compensation from them for using their platform. A link will be provided to the Client allowing them to connect an account(s) to the platform. Once Client account(s) is connected to the platform, Investably will review the current account allocations. When deemed necessary, Investably will rebalance the account considering client investment goals and risk tolerance, and any change in allocations will consider current economic and market trends. The goal is to improve account performance over time, minimize loss during difficult markets, and manage internal fees that harm account performance. Client account(s) will be reviewed at least quarterly and allocation changes will be made as deemed necessary.

Client Assets under Management

Investably has the following assets under management:

Discretionary Amounts:	Non-discretionary Amounts:	Date Calculated:
$172,866	$0	July 26, 2023

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Method of Compensation and Fee Schedule

ASSET MANAGEMENT

Investably offers discretionary direct asset management services to advisory Clients. Investably charges an annual investment advisory fee based on the following fee schedule:

Account Size	Maximum Annual Fee	Monthly Fee
$1,000,000	1.00%	0.083%
$1,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.80%	0.067%
$10,000,001 - $20,000,000	0.60%	0.05%
$20,000,000+	0.40%	0.017%

This is a flat rate/breakpoint fee schedule, the entire portfolio is charged the same asset management fee. For example, a Plan with $6,000,000 would pay $48,000 on an annual basis. $$6,000,000 \times 0.80\% = $48,000$.

The annual fee is negotiable based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with Clients, etc.). Fees are billed monthly in arrears based on an average daily balance of the account for the previous month. The calculation for the average daily balance is based on the formula $(A/D) \times (F/P)$.

A = the sum of the daily balances in the billing period

D = number of days in the billing period

F = annual management fee

P = number of billing periods per year

For example (based on a monthly billing period): the first step taken using the average-daily-balance calculation method would be to take the average of the values of the Client's account over the course of the entire month. For instance, 25 days at \$1 million plus six days at \$500,000 averages out to approximately \$903,225.80. Based on the formula $(A/D) \times (F/P)$, the example would be: $(28,000,000/31) \times (.01/12) = \752.66

Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Clients may terminate their account within five (5) business days of signing the Investment Advisory Agreement with no obligation and without penalty. After the initial five (5) business days, the agreement may be terminated by Investably with thirty (30) days written notice to Client and by the Client at any time with written notice to Investably. For accounts opened or closed mid-billing period, fees will be prorated based on the days that services are provided during the given period. All unpaid earned fees will be due to Investably. Client shall be given thirty (30) days prior written notice of any increase in fees. Any increase in fees will be acknowledged in writing by both parties before any increase in said fees occurs.

Investably may also utilize the services of a Sub-Advisor to manage Clients' investment portfolios. Investably will enter into Sub-Advisor agreements with other registered investment advisor firms. When using sub-advisors, the client will pay additional fees depending on the account value, investment style and types of securities used. The sub-advisor fees will be disclosed to and acknowledged by the client in Investably's Investment Advisory Agreement. The sub-advisor's fees and the custodian's fees are not included in the fees charged by Investably.

MODEL MARKETPLACE OF ALTRUIST LLC

Based on the selection by the Advisor on behalf of the Client Account of a Model Portfolio, Altruist charges a fee to each Advisor that is paid on a pro-rata annualized basis monthly in arrears based on the value of the assets subscribed to a Model Portfolio in an Account on the last day of the previous month. Fees are generally based on a percentage of the market value of the assets in the Account. Altruist's fee may range from 0% to 1%. Altruist will instruct the applicable Participating Broker-Dealer to deduct Altruist's fee for the Platform from Advisor's fee (house) account at the Participating Broker-Dealer, or if Advisor instructs, from Client Accounts.

SEI INVESTMENTS MANAGEMENT CORP (SIMC)

When using the SEI program, Investably will charge the same fees as noted above.

In addition to the fees charged by Investably above, SEI charges the following annual fees:

SEI Sponsored Programs - SIMC Sub-Advised Program
SEI Mutual Funds, SEI Managed Account Solutions, SEI Sub-Advised Program	No Platform Fee
Custom High Net Worth Solutions	SEI Fees ranging from 0.55 – 1.15%
Investably Managed - Custody-only Program
Custom portfolio	No Platform Fee

Clients may terminate their account within five (5) business days of signing the Investment Advisory Agreement with no obligation. For accounts closed mid-month, Investably will be entitled to a pro rata fee for the days service was provided in the final month. Client shall be given thirty (30) days prior written notice of any increase in fees. Any increase in fees will be acknowledged in writing by both parties before any increase in said fees occurs.

BUCKINGHAM STRATEGIC PARTNERS, LLC

Investably offers discretionary direct asset management services to advisory Clients. Investably retains an independent third-party account administrator (Buckingham Strategic Partners, LLC or "BSP") that performs certain services such as account administration, portfolio allocation analysis, back-office fulfillment, report and statement production, and billing services. BSP receives certain fees and expenses directly from the SA Funds, as disclosed in each SA Fund's prospectus. In addition to the SA Funds expenses, Investably charges an annual investment advisory fee based on the total assets under management as follows:

Assets Under Management	Investably Maximum Annual Fee
$1,000,000	1.00%
$1,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.80%
$10,000,001 - $20,000,000	0.60%
$20,000,000+	0.40%

For non-SA Fund fees BSP administrative fees will be in addition to the above fees charged by Investably. Fees shall be between 0.10% and 0.50% annually.

BSP's fees for these services will be included in from the investment advisory fees charged by Investably. The fee paid to Investably will be calculated in advance, each quarter-year, based upon the assets under management on the ending balance of the last day of the previous quarter and the fees will be collected from the respective Clients' accounts. Clients placed with BSP will be billed in accordance with BSP's Fee Schedule which will be disclosed to the Client prior to signing an agreement. Fees are negotiable. Investably does not have the ability to deduct fees from the Client account.

Clients may terminate their account within five (5) business days of signing the Investment Advisory Agreement with no obligation and without penalty. Clients may terminate advisory services with thirty (30) days written notice. For accounts opened or closed mid-billing period, unearned fees will be refunded to the Client, or any unpaid earned fees will be due to Investably. Unpaid fees will be calculated by assessing the fee for the number of days services were provided in the last billing period. This refund will be issued either back into the Client account or by another method pre-approved by the Client.

SUBADVISORY SERVICES

- A fee of 1.00% will be charged on the total assets under management. Investably is compensated directly by the third-party unaffiliated investment adviser with a portion of their investment management fee, as per the duly executed Sub-Advisory services agreement. The third-party unaffiliated investment adviser who engages Investably as a Sub-advisor shall be responsible for billing the Clients and collecting all fees.
- Clients may terminate their account within five (5) business days of signing the Investment Advisory Agreement with no obligation and without penalty. Clients may terminate advisory services with thirty (30) days written notice. For accounts opened or closed mid-billing period, fees will be prorated based on the days services are provided during the given period. All unpaid earned fees will be due to Investably. Client shall be given thirty (30) days prior written notice of any increase in fees. Any increase in fees will be acknowledged in writing by both parties before any increase in said fees occurs.

ASSETS HELD AWAY

Investably offers discretionary direct asset management services to advisory Clients. Investably charges a maximum annual fee of 1% of the assets under management.

The Advisory Fee for the initial period will be paid on a pro rata basis based on the number of days left in the billing period for which services under this Agreement were provided, in arrears, based on the billing period ending value of the Client's managed assets, in accordance with the fee schedule listed in the Agreement. For all future periods, the Advisory Fee will be assessed and payable each billing period based on the balance of Client's managed assets as of the prior period end, in accordance with the fee schedule listed in the Agreement. The Advisory fee payable for any Held Away Account will be deducted from another Client Account, and if there are insufficient funds available in another Client Account or Investably believes that deducting the Advisory Fee from another Client Account would be prohibited by applicable law, it will invoice the Client.

No fee adjustment will be made for Account deposits and withdrawals during a billing period.

In addition to the fees paid to Investably, investments used in managing the Account may subject Client to additional fees. For example, mutual funds, index funds, exchange traded funds and private funds typically charge ongoing management fees and have other expenses for the operation of those funds. These fees should not be confused with "loads" or commissions. Investably does not receive any additional compensation, either directly or indirectly, from these investments.

Clients may terminate their account within five (5) business days of signing the investment advisory agreement with no obligation and for a full refund. For terminations after the initial five (5) business days, Client will be entitled to a pro-rata refund for the days service was provided in the final quarter.

ERISA PLAN SERVICES

The fees for ERISA services are as follows:

One-time Implementation Fee – Up to $2,500 (Paid in advance)

Ongoing Monthly Plan Base Fee – Up to $500

Ongoing Monthly Financial Wellness Program Fee – Up to $400

Annual Fee – Based on the following fee schedule:

Account Size	Maximum Annual Fee
$1,000,000	1.00%
$1,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.80%
$10,000,001 - $20,000,000	0.60%
$20,000,000+	0.40%

This is a flat rate/breakpoint fee schedule, the entire portfolio is charged the same asset management fee. For example, a Plan with $6,000,000 would pay $48,000 on an annual basis. $$6,000,000 \times 0.80\% = $48,000$. Fees are prorated daily and are due monthly, in arrears. Quarterly billing may be available on a case-by-case basis at Investably's discretion.

Fees will be charged monthly (or quarterly at Investably's discretion) in arrears as calculated by the custodian or record keeper. If the services to be provided start any time other than the first day of a billing period, the fee will be prorated based on the number of days remaining in the billing period. If this Agreement is terminated prior to the end of the billing cycle, Investably shall be entitled to a prorated fee based on the number of days during the fee period services were provided or Client will be due a prorated refund of fees for days services were not provided in the billing cycle.

The fee schedule, which includes compensation of Investably for the services is described in detail in Schedule A of the ERISA Plan Agreement. The Plan is obligated to pay the fees; however, the Plan Sponsor may elect to pay the fees. Client may elect to be billed directly or have fees deducted from Plan Assets. Investably does not reasonably expect to receive any additional compensation, directly or indirectly, for its services under this Agreement. If additional compensation is received, Investably will disclose this compensation, the services rendered, and the payer of compensation. Investably will offset the compensation against the fees agreed upon under the Agreement.

Fees for asset management services are deducted from a designated Client account to facilitate billing or they may pay Investably directly via a third party platform. The Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account.

Fees for ERISA services will either be deducted from Plan assets or paid directly to Investably via a third party platform. The Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account.

Fees for financial plans will be billed to the Client and paid directly to Investably via a third-party platform.

Additional Client Fees Charged

Custodians may charge transaction fees other related costs on the purchases or sales of mutual funds, equities, bonds, options and exchange-traded funds. Mutual funds, money market funds and exchange-traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in the fund's prospectus. Investably does not receive any compensation from these fees. All of these fees are in addition to the management fee you pay to Investably. For more details on the brokerage practices, see Item 12 of this brochure.

Prepayment of Client Fees

Investably does not require any prepayment of fees of more than $500 per Client and six months or more in advance.

Fees for ERISA 3(21) services may be billed in advance.

If the Client cancels after five (5) business days, any unearned fees will be refunded to the Client, or any unpaid earned fees will be due to Investably.

Fees for one-time financial plans are due, in full, at the commencement of the contract.

If the Client cancels after five (5) business days, a full refund will be given to the Client.

External Compensation for the Sale of Securities to Clients

Investably does not receive any external compensation for the sale of securities to Clients, nor do any of the investment advisor representatives of Investably.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

Investably does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the conflict of interest. Performance based compensation may create an incentive for Investably to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the Client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

Description

Investably generally provides financial planning and investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, non-profits, corporations or business entities. Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

Investably requires $500,000 minimum asset amount to open an account. Investably reserves the right to waive this at its discretion.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include Modern Portfolio Theory. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns.

Modern Portfolio Theory is the theory of finance that attempts to maximize portfolio expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, or equivalently minimize risk for a given level of expected return, by carefully choosing the proportions of various assets.

In developing a financial plan for a Client, Investably's analysis may include cash flow analysis, investment planning, risk management, tax planning and estate planning. Based on the information gathered, a detailed strategy is tailored to the Client's specific situation.

The main sources of information include investment and financial planning technologies, financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Investment Strategy

The investment strategy for a specific Client is based upon the objectives stated by the Client during consultations. The Client may change these objectives at any time by providing written notice to Investably. Each Client executes a Client profile form or similar form that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, and trading.

Security Specific Material Risks

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks and should discuss these risks with Investably:

- Market Risk: The prices of securities in which clients invest may decline in response to certain events taking place around the world, including those directly involving the companies whose securities are owned by a fund; conditions affecting the general economy; overall market changes; local, regional or global political, social or economic instability; and currency, interest rate and commodity price fluctuations. Investors should have a long-term perspective and be able to tolerate potentially sharp declines in market value.
- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will buy more than a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Management Risk: The advisor's investment approach may fail to produce the intended results. If the advisor's assumptions regarding the performance of a specific asset class or fund are not realized in the expected time frame, the overall performance of the client's portfolio may suffer.
- Equity Risk: Equity securities tend to be more volatile than other investment choices. The value of an individual mutual fund or ETF can be more volatile than the market as a whole. This volatility affects the value of the client's overall portfolio. Small- and mid-cap companies are subject to additional risks. Smaller companies may experience greater volatility, higher failure rates, more limited markets, product lines, financial resources, and less management experience than larger companies. Smaller companies may also have a lower trading volume, which may disproportionately affect their market price, tending to make them fall more in response to selling pressure than is the case with larger companies.

- Fixed Income Risk: The issuer of a fixed income security may not be able to make interest and principal payments when due. Generally, the lower the credit rating of a security, the greater the risk that the issuer will default on its obligation. If a rating agency gives a debt security a lower rating, the value of the debt security will decline because investors will demand a higher rate of return. As nominal interest rates rise, the value of fixed income securities held by a fund is likely to decrease. A nominal interest rate is the sum of a real interest rate and an expected inflation rate.
- Investment Companies Risk: When a client invests in open end mutual funds or ETFs, the client indirectly bears their proportionate share of any fees and expenses payable directly by those funds. Therefore, the client will incur higher expenses, which may be duplicative. In addition, the client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives). ETFs are also subject to the following risks: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below their net asset value or (ii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are de-listed from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally. Adviser has no control over the risks taken by the underlying funds in which client invests.
- Foreign Securities Risk: Funds in which clients invest may invest in foreign securities. Foreign securities are subject to additional risks not typically associated with investments in domestic securities. These risks may include, among others, currency risk, country risks (political, diplomatic, regional conflicts, terrorism, war, social and economic instability, currency devaluations and policies that have the effect of limiting or restricting foreign investment or the movement of assets), different trading practices, less government supervision, less publicly available information, limited trading markets and greater volatility. To the extent that underlying funds invest in issuers located in emerging markets, the risk may be heightened by political changes, changes in taxation, or currency controls that could adversely affect the values of these investments. Emerging markets have been more volatile than the markets of developed countries with more mature economies.
- Long-term purchases: Long-term investments are those vehicles purchased with the intension of being held for more than one year. Typically, the expectation of the investment is to increase in value so that it can eventually be sold for a profit. In addition, there may be an expectation for the investment to provide income. One of the biggest risks associated with long-term investments is volatility, the fluctuations in the financial markets that can cause investments to lose value.
- Short-term purchases: Short-term investments are typically held for one year or less. Generally, there is not a high expectation for a return or an increase in value. Typically, short-term investments are purchased for the relatively greater degree of principal protection they are designed to provide. Short-term investment vehicles may be subject to purchasing power risk — the risk that your investment's return will not keep up with inflation.
- Trading risk: Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. There is no assurance that the investment objective of any fund or investment will be achieved.
- Structured Notes Risk: The risks involved with using structured notes are credit risk of the issuing investment bank, illiquidity, and there is risk to the pricing accuracy as most structured notes do not trade after issuance.
- Foreign Investment Risk: Investments in foreign securities may be riskier than U.S. investments because of factors such as, unstable international, political and economic conditions, currency fluctuations, foreign controls on investment and currency exchange, foreign governmental control of some issuers, potential confiscatory taxation or nationalization of companies by foreign governments, withholding taxes, a lack of adequate company information, less liquid and more volatile exchanges and/or markets, ineffective or detrimental government regulation, varying accounting standards, political or economic factors that may severely limit business activities, and legal systems or market practices that may permit inequitable treatment of minority and/or non-domestic investors. Investments in emerging markets may involve these and other significant risks such as less mature economic structures and less developed and more thinly-traded securities markets.

- Variable Annuity Risk: A variable annuity is a form of insurance where the seller or issuer (typically an insurance company) makes a series of future payments to a buyer (annuitant) in exchange for the immediate payment of a lump sum (single-payment annuity) or a series of regular payments (regular-payment annuity). The payment stream from the issuer to the annuitant has an unknown duration based principally upon the date of death of the annuitant. At this point, the contract will terminate, and the remainder of the funds accumulated are forfeited unless there are other annuitants or beneficiaries in the contract. Annuities can be purchased to provide an income during retirement. Unlike fixed annuities that make payments in fixed amounts or in amounts that increase by a fixed percentage, variable annuities, pay amounts that vary according to the performance of a specified set of investments, typically bond and equity mutual funds. Many variable annuities typically impose asset-based sales charges or surrender charges for withdrawals within a specified period. Variable annuities may impose a variety of fees and expenses, in addition to sales and surrender charges, such as mortality and expense risk charges; administrative fees; underlying fund expenses; and charges for special features, all of which can reduce the return. Earnings in a variable annuity do not provide all the tax advantages of 401(k)s and other before-tax retirement plans. Once the investor starts withdrawing money from their variable annuity, earnings are taxed at the ordinary income rate, rather than at the lower capital gains rates applied to other non-tax-deferred vehicles which are held for more than one year. Proceeds of most variable annuities do not receive a "step-up" in cost basis when the owner dies like stocks, bonds and mutual funds do. Some variable annuities offer "bonus credits." These are usually not free. In order to fund them, insurance companies typically impose mortality and expense charges and surrender charge periods. In an exchange of an existing annuity for a new annuity (so-called 1035 exchanges), the new variable annuity may have a lower contract value and a smaller death benefit; may impose new surrender charges or increase the period of time for which the surrender charge applies; may have higher annual fees; and provide another commission for the broker

The risks associated with utilizing Sub-Advisors include:

- Manager Risk
 - Sub-Advisor fails to execute the stated investment strategy.
- Business Risk
 - Sub-Advisor has financial or regulatory problems.
- The specific risks associated with the portfolios of the Sub-Advisor's which is disclosed in the Sub-Advisor's Form ADV Part 2.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Criminal or Civil Actions

Investably and its management have not been involved in any criminal or civil action.

Administrative Enforcement Proceedings

Investably and its management have not been involved in administrative enforcement proceedings.

Self- Regulatory Organization Enforcement Proceedings

Investably and its management have not been involved in legal or disciplinary events that are material to a Client's or prospective Client's evaluation of Investably or the integrity of its management.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer or Representative Registration

Investably is not registered as a broker- dealer and no affiliated representatives of Investably are registered representatives of a broker-dealer.

Futures or Commodity Registration

Neither Investably nor its affiliated representatives are registered or have an application pending to register as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or a commodity trading advisor.

Material Relationships Maintained by this Advisory Business and Conflicts of Interest

Michelle Gordon has a financial affiliated business as an insurance professional with several broker general agencies (BGA) or direct carriers. Approximately 10% of her time is spent on these activities. She will offer Clients services from those activities. As a licensed insurance agent, she will receive separate yet typical compensation.

These practices represent conflicts of interest because it gives an incentive to recommend products based on the commission amount received. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures and the firm's fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the Client first and the Clients are not required to purchase any products. Clients have the option to purchase these products through another registered representative or insurance agent of their choosing.

Recommendations or Selections of Other Investment Advisors and Conflicts of Interest

Investably may also utilize the services of a Sub-Advisor to manage Clients' investment portfolios. Sub-Advisors will maintain the models or investment strategies agreed upon between Sub-Advisor and Investably. Sub-Advisors execute all trades on behalf of Investably in Client accounts. Investably will be responsible for the overall direct relationship with the Client. Investably retains the authority to terminate the Sub-Advisor relationship at Investably's discretion.

In addition to the authority granted to Investably, Clients will grant Investably full discretionary authority and authorizes Investably to select and appoint one or more independent investment advisors ("Advisors") to provide investment advisory services to Client without prior consultation with or the prior consent of Client. Such Advisors shall have all of the same authority relating to the management of Client's investment accounts as is granted to Investably in the Agreement. In addition, at Investably's discretion, Investably may grant such Advisors full authority to further delegate such discretionary investment authority to additional Advisors. Investably ensures that before selecting other advisors for Client that the other advisors are properly licensed or registered as an investment advisor.

This practice represents a conflict of interest as Investably may select Sub-Advisors who charge a lower fee for their services than other Sub-Advisors. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures, and by the fact that Investably has a fiduciary duty to place the best interest of the Client first and will adhere to their code of ethics.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Description

The affiliated persons (affiliated persons include employees and/or independent contractors) of Investably have committed to a Code of Ethics ("Code"). The purpose of our Code is to set forth standards of conduct expected of Investably affiliated persons and addresses conflicts that may arise. The Code defines acceptable behavior for affiliated persons of Investably. The Code reflects Investably and its supervised persons' responsibility to act in the best interest of their Client.

One area which the Code addresses is when affiliated persons buy or sell securities for their personal accounts and how to mitigate any conflict of interest with our Clients. We do not allow any affiliated persons to use non-public material information for their personal profit or to use internal research for their personal benefit in conflict with the benefit to our Clients.

Investably's policy prohibits any person from acting upon or otherwise misusing non-public or inside information. No advisory representative or other affiliated person, officer or director of Investably may recommend any transaction in a security or its derivative to advisory Clients or engage in personal securities transactions for a security or its derivatives if the advisory representative possesses material, non-public information regarding the security.

Investably's Code is based on the guiding principle that the interests of the Client are our top priority. Investably's officers, directors, advisors, and other affiliated persons have a fiduciary duty to our Clients and must diligently perform that duty to maintain the complete trust and confidence of our Clients. When a conflict arises, it is our obligation to put the Client's interests over the interests of either affiliated persons or the company.

The Code applies to "access" persons. "Access" persons are affiliated persons who have access to non-public information regarding any Clients' purchase or sale of securities, or non-public information regarding the portfolio holdings of any reportable fund, who are involved in making securities recommendations to Clients, or who have access to such recommendations that are non-public.

Investably will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any Client or prospective Client upon request.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflict of Interest

Investably and its affiliated persons do not recommend to Clients securities in which we have a material financial interest.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

Investably and its affiliated persons may buy or sell securities that are also held by Clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as trading ahead of Client transactions, affiliated persons are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide Investably with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of Investably is Michelle Gordon. She reviews all trades of the affiliated persons each quarter. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of affiliated persons does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm receive preferential treatment over associated persons' transactions.

Client Securities Recommendations or Trades and Concurrent Advisory Firm Securities Transactions and Conflicts of Interest

Investably does maintain a firm proprietary trading account and affiliated persons may buy or sell securities at the same time they buy or sell securities for Clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as front running, the firm and affiliated persons are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide Investably with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of Investably is Michelle Gordon. She reviews all trades of the affiliated persons each quarter. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of affiliated persons does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm receive preferential treatment over associated persons' transactions.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Broker-Dealers for Client Transactions

Investably will recommend the use of a particular broker-dealer based on their duty to seek best execution for the client, meaning they have an obligation to obtain the most favorable terms for a client under the circumstances. The determination of what may constitute best execution and price in the execution of a securities transaction by a broker involves a number of considerations and is subjective. Factors affecting brokerage selection include the overall direct net economic result to the portfolios, the efficiency with which the transaction is affected, the ability to effect the transaction where a large block is involved, the operational facilities of the broker-dealer, the value of an ongoing relationship with such broker and the financial strength and stability of the broker. Investably will select appropriate brokers based on a number of factors including but not limited to their relatively low transaction fees and reporting ability. Investably relies on its broker to provide its execution services at the best prices available. Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Clients pay for any and all custodial fees in addition to the advisory fee charged by Investably. Investably does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

Investably will recommend the use of Altruist Financial LLC, Fidelity, and SEI Private Trust Company (SPTC).

- Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

The Securities and Exchange Commission defines soft dollar practices as arrangement under which products or services other than execution services are obtained by Investably from or through a broker-dealer in exchange for directing Client transactions to the broker-dealer. Although Investably has no formal soft dollar arrangements, Investably may receive products, research and/or other services from custodians or broker-dealers connected to client transactions or "soft dollar benefits". As permitted by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, Investably receives economic benefits as a result of commissions generated from securities transactions by the custodian or broker-dealer from the accounts of Investably. Investably cannot ensure that a particular client will benefit from soft dollars or the client's transactions paid for the soft dollar benefits. Investably does not seek to proportionately allocate benefits to client accounts to any soft dollar benefits generated by the accounts.

A conflict of interest exists when Investably receives soft dollars which could result in higher commissions charged to Clients. This conflict is mitigated by the fact that Investably has a fiduciary responsibility to act in the best interest of its Clients and the services received are beneficial to all Clients.

Investably receives a benefit because they do not have to produce or pay for the research, product or services received. Investably may have an incentive to select or recommend a broker-dealer based on Investably's interest in receiving the research or other products or services, rather than on the clients' interest in receiving most favorable execution.

- Brokerage for Client Referrals
Investably does not receive client referrals from any custodian or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.
- Directed Brokerage
Clients who direct brokerage outside our recommendation may be unable to achieve the most favorable execution of client transactions as client directed brokerage may cost clients more money. For example, in a directed brokerage account, you may pay higher brokerage commissions because we may not be able to aggregate orders to reduce transaction costs, or you may receive less favorable prices.

Aggregating Securities Transactions for Client Accounts

Investably is authorized in its discretion to aggregate purchases and sales and other transactions made for the account with purchases and sales and transactions in the same securities for other Clients of Investably. All Clients participating in the aggregated order shall receive an average share price with all other transaction costs shared on a pro-rated basis. If aggregation is not allowed or infeasible and individual transactions occur (e.g., withdrawal or liquidation requests, odd-late trades, etc.) an account may potentially be assessed higher costs or less favorable prices than those where aggregation has occurred.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts or Financial Plans and Advisory Persons

Involved

Account reviews are performed quarterly by the Chief Compliance Officer of Investably. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate. Reviews of Client accounts include, but are not limited to, a review of Client documented risk tolerance, adherence to account objectives, investment time horizon, and suitability criteria, reviewing target allocations of each asset class to identify if there is an opportunity for rebalancing, and reviewing accounts for tax loss harvesting opportunities.

One-time Financial plans generated are updated as requested by the Client and pursuant to a new or amended agreement, Investably suggests updating at least annually.

Review of Client Accounts on Non-Periodic Basis

Other conditions that may trigger a review of Clients' accounts are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a Client's own situation.

Content of Client Provided Reports and Frequency

Clients receive written account statements no less than monthly for managed accounts. Account statements are issued by Investably's custodian. Client receives confirmations of each transaction in account from Custodian and an additional statement during any month in which a transaction occurs. Performance reports will be provided by Investably at least quarterly to Clients with assets under management.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic Benefits Provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

Investably receives additional economic benefits from external sources as described above in Item 12.

Advisory Firm Payments for Client Referrals

Investably does not compensate for Client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

Account Statements

All assets are held at qualified custodians, which means the custodians provide account statements directly to Clients at their address of record at least quarterly. Clients should carefully review statements received from the custodian and clients are urged to compare the account statements they receive from the qualified custodian with those they receive from the adviser.

Investably is deemed to have limited custody solely because advisory fees are directly deducted from Client's accounts by the custodian on behalf of Investably.

If Investably is authorized or permitted to deduct fees directly from the account by the custodian:

- Investably will provide the Client with an invoice concurrent to instructing the custodian to deduct the fee stating the amount of the fee, the formula used to calculate the fee, the amount of assets under management the fee is based on and the time period covered by the fee;
- Investably will obtain written authorization signed by the Client allowing the fees to be deducted; and
- The Client will receive quarterly statements directly from the custodian which disclose the fees deducted.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

Investably requires discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of Clients. Investably has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific Client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold.

Investably allows Clients to place certain restrictions, as outlined in the Client's Investment Policy Statement or similar document. Such restrictions could include only allowing purchases of socially conscious investments. These restrictions must be provided to Investably in writing.

The Client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. Investably does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the Client to the custodian.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

Investably does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. The Client will receive their proxies directly from the custodian of their account or from a transfer agent.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, Investably will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client. If the Client requires assistance or has questions, they can reach out to the investment advisor representatives of the firm at the contact information on the cover page of this document.

Item 18: Financial Information

Balance Sheet

A balance sheet is not required to be provided to Clients because Investably does not serve as a custodian for Client funds or securities and Investably does not require prepayment of fees of more than $500 per Client and six months or more in advance.

Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Advisory Firm's Ability to Meet

Commitments to Clients

Investably has no condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our Clients.

Bankruptcy Petitions during the Past Ten Years

Investably has not had any bankruptcy petitions in the last ten years.
