ZEGA's Dividend Plus

- First, we build a basket of 12 to 15 ETFs across various sectors and subsectors
- Selected funds offer dividends and diversification with rebalancing
- Next, we put the "Plus" in by utilizing an embedded covered call sleeve aiming at an additional 6%-8% of income
- 10% Income Target Derived from Dividends

Dividends + Option Premium

Diversification + Rebalancing

Easy Implementation

Lower Volatility

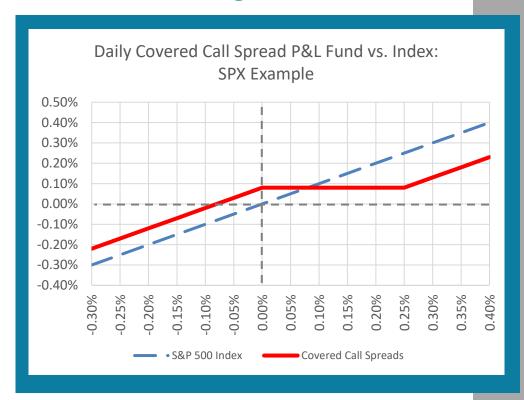

ZEGA's Dividend Plus Limitations & Risk

- On the portion of the portfolio utilizing covered call vehicles, it may lag markets during strong uptrends in exchange for higher income
- Investors choosing to take distributions may not realize the benefits of compounding dividends
- While designed to have lower volatility, market conditions at times see periods of volatility commensurate with overall markets
- □ Dividend Plus is better suited in qualified accounts due to taxation of dividends

Dividend Plus Covered Call Spread Premium Selling

- Hold ETFs that sell daily covered call spread on major indexes
- □ Selling daily premium offers potential to generate more income by selling the most expenses on a per day basis options
- Spreads used so not to hard cap potential upside allowing for some capital appreciation + income
- While only 30% of the portfolio, they can make significant contribution to target income
