

Fox & Company's QuickBooks® Tips are always timesavers for me. QuickBooks can be tricky, and after using it for more than 6 years, I still find out neat little tricks every time I get one of their Fox Reports. Also, if I ever need anything, they are always at the other end of the line ready to help instead of having to go through automated menus, and who doesn't love that!

The staff at Fox and Company CPAs have been crucial in helping me grow and manage my business. At the conception of my business, they patiently introduced me to the QuickBooks® software, working with me and my staff one on one until we were completely comfortable. Then, they continued to assist me in using the program to address my business's specific needs. Having had no previous business background, they were able to teach me how to use QuickBooks® to generate reports and interpret them in ways that allowed me to make decisions that were best for my business. They are always ready and willing to help and they are easily accessible. When I had a question, or wanted to know how to change or track something, they were quick to respond and always gave me valuable information and suggestions. Four years later, I feel confident that my decision to work with Fox and Company was one of the best business decisions I have made. I couldn't be happier with the service that I receive from Fox and Company.
